Welcome and Introduction

Welcome to the Foundation Degree in Art and Contemporary Craft delivered at Brannams by Petroc.

Welcome and congratulations on your successful application to the FdA Art and Contemporary Craft programme. an innovative and ground-breaking interdisciplinary programme that explores visual arts unity and challenges the accepted orthodoxies within traditional art and craft practice.

Study will take place in the well-equipped Degree studio and workshops located on the prestigious Brannams Campus - the historical home of the world renowned Brannams Pottery. Students are enthusiastically encouraged by knowledgeable staff as they undertake twelve modules of study (six at level 4, and six at Level 5) They will explore the exciting worlds of commercial Fine Art Painting, Drawing, Print and Sculpture. As well as the inspiring Craft disciplines of Wood, Stone, Metal, Glass and Textiles. Once these key principles have been obtained, students will be encouraged to explore the notion of synthesis and embrace the exhilarating potential found in highly experimental creative practice. Lectures and seminars will push learners' thinking in thrilling new directions, which question, and challenge accepted creative orthodoxies around themes of media and application technique, aesthetic philosophies and image sciences, designed to enable students to forge innovative creative identities, artistic thinking and pioneering outcomes, alongside a sound understanding of economic sensibility, freelancing and entrepreneurial creative industry opportunities.

The Art and Contemporary Craft Programme has been developed as a result of in-depth discussions with leading industry experts, employers and practitioners. The programme is specifically designed to equip students with the necessary practical transferable skills, as well as sound theoretical aptitude to innovate, advance, adapt and thrive within complete creative markets.

integration of Work-Based Learning

Various modules enhance work-based learning skills. The programme enthusiastically encourages students to work on live projects to obtain knowledge and feedback from industry. This information is then analysed and used to enhance professionalism within creative practice. The museum of Barnstaple and North Devon is an active supportive partner of the Art and Contemporary Craft Programme and offers a wealth of artifacts of exemplary importance regarding technique and process for students to study.

Students will have the opportunity to talk to our visiting ALP (Academic Liaison Personal) regarding work and suitability to possible progression pathways available at the University of Plymouth.

4. Distinctive Features of the Programme and the Student Experience

- Light, professional, friendly and stimulating studio environment.
- Inspirational and well-equipped workshop.
- Highly motivated lecturers, guest lecturers and demonstrators who offer an outstanding level of knowledge and support from faculty staff.
- Opportunities to explore both Commercial Art and Contemporary Craft pathways.
- Creative industry professional practice entrepreneurial learning.
- Knowledge of specialist skills, processes and techniques from world renowned historical and contemporary practices.
- Students benefit from their own large desk space with a locker.

The North Devon Brannams Campus is just a short drive from some of the most breath-taking coastline this region has to offer, and only a short walk from Barnstaple town centre, which is steeped in inspirational creative history, such as the internationally recognised Arts and Crafts company Shapland and Petter. The campus is directly situated on the grounds of the world renowned Brannams Pottery site. Our students can take pride in the knowledge that this prestigious history will form a part of their own creative future. The Museum of Barnstaple and North Devon is an acting supportive partner to the programme. As a result, FdA Art and Contemporary Craft students are able to view and analyse key objects from selected archives which relate to specific programme modules, with guidance and support from expert staff. This affiliation provides a plethora of historic inspirational resources, enabling students to advance on a theoretical and practical level. The museum has archived many artifacts of thrilling technical importance. The FdA Art and Contemporary Craft programme is proud of the range of resources this relationship has gifted, as well as the knowledgeable guest lecturers, demonstrators, and facility staff who impart revered information and practical skills from celebrated historical and contemporary creative practices.

The studio environment is light and airy, professional, friendly, and stimulating. The space is fully equipped with inspirational materials and resources; our specialist workshop facility allows students to experiment and explore, and later, more deeply focus on 3D tasks. Staff have a range of specialist expertise covering many areas of commercial art and craft. They are dedicated, highly enthused about the subjects they teach, and students will benefit from a high level of one-to-one technical support, tutorial time and assessment feedback.

The FdA Art and Contemporary Craft is an innovative and ground-breaking interdisciplinary programme that explores visual arts unity and challenges the accepted orthodoxies within traditional art and craft practice. Students are enthusiastically encouraged by knowledgeable staff to explore the exciting worlds of casting, forming and welding metal, fusing, slumping, enamelling and stained-glass construction, throwing and decorating ceramics, turning, joining and steam bending wood, painting with oil, watercolour, egg tempera and acrylic, silkscreen, etching, mono and lino printing, and stone carving; underpinned with developing sound observational and expressive drawing skills.

Once these key principles have been obtained, students will be encouraged to explore the notion of synthesis and embrace the exhilarating potential found in highly experimental creative practice. Lectures and seminars will push learners' thinking in thrilling new directions, which question, and challenge accepted creative orthodoxies around themes of media and application technique, aesthetic philosophies and image sciences, designed to enable students to forge innovative creative identities, artistic thinking and pioneering outcomes, alongside a sound understanding of economic sensibility, freelancing and entrepreneurial creative industry opportunities.

Most modules are highly practical and within these various forms, critical evaluation are undertaken. Traditional, non-traditional, and highly questioning techniques, processes and methodologies are supported with written reflective evaluation. Within this working practice, students explore traditional specialist techniques, and later combine elements together across creative disciplines to create new and inspirational outcomes. Students will be encouraged to cross pathways or combine pathways together. They will also have the opportunity to collaborate together and combine skills.

The programme allows, where appropriate, for modes of blended and online learning. This is highly advantageous in developing independence and confidence in decision making. During these sessions, learners will have access to our VLE (Virtual Learning Environment/Moodle). They will benefit from frequent online tutorial sessions, lectures, and assignment submission. Digital training will be provided to empower this way of working, which learners will later use in the development of their own online commercial creative practice.

There are two pieces of critical writing work. The first is covered in critical and historical studies, which is during the first half of the programme; learners will question the roles and parameters of commercial art and craft throughout history, and in the second half of the programme, during the module critical perspectives and creative analysis, learners will research, analyse and write about specialist industry practitioners within local, national and international markets, and consider future market trends. This concludes with a proposed personal practical application of findings in context, consequently increasing the likelihood of making artefacts of desirability for a considered commercial context.

Students are encouraged to develop their Art and Craft voice, building a creative practice, which produces highly sought-after artefacts of professional quality that meet the demands of the competitive marketplace.

The Modules titled ‘Interdisciplinary Practice 1’ and ‘Interdisciplinary Practice 2’, facilitate the further development of subject specialist techniques, processes and methodologies. This knowledge is underpinned with entrepreneurial strategies designed to help students excel as an Artist or Designer-Maker in the wider world. The programme closes on the module ‘Public Exhibition’, which further empowers students with skills in collaboration, exhibiting, and marketing of their refined final artwork to clients at our prestigious Summer Show. After this time students may choose to go on to further study or employment.

7. Programme Aims

Overarching aim of the programme:

1. An enthusiastic appreciation and understanding of a wide range of Art and Contemporary Craft practice.
2. An inspirational understanding of how to effectively analyse information and experiences to formulate critical judgments and arguments to further develop as a professional creative.
3. Proficiently develop practical technical knowledge and become confident utilising a range of creative media and application techniques.
4. Theoretical and intellectual enquiry which aids challenging accepted orthodoxies and advances awareness of contextualisation of creative pathway opportunities.
5. Develop knowledge, understanding and self-assurance of own artistic capability and aesthetic sensibility, whilst exploring contemporary commercial associations with clients, markets and environments within professional practice entrepreneurial ventures.
6. An embedding of individuality, self-reliance and self-development within the student practice allied to accurate awareness of the practicalities of functioning as an Artist or Designer-Maker.

7. Embedding knowledge and enthusiasm of cultural, ethical and sustainable considerations within research, design and outcome stages.

8. Programme Intended Learning Outcomes

8.1. Knowledge and Understanding:

On successful completion graduates will have developed:

- 8.1.1 The ability to generate ideas, concepts and proposals and select appropriate materials processes and technologies which reflect intentions and concerns within an Art and Contemporary Craft specialism.
- 8.1.2 Be resourceful, ethical, sustainable and culturally aware, reflected within entrepreneurial professional creative practice.
- 8.1.3 Use informed visual research analysis taken from subject specific sources to enhance aesthetic, image ethos and marketability within contextual parameters.

8.2. Cognitive and Intellectual Skills

On successful completion graduates will have developed:

- 8.2.1 Knowledge of theories linked to key visual formal elements and the ability to successfully implement this knowledge within rough design stages, stylistic aesthetic developments and final outcomes.
- 8.2.2 Ability to competently research, analyse information and apply knowledge to effectively communicate and express information in a variety of practical outcomes to specialist and non-specialist audiences.
- 8.2.3 Learners will be able to use art and contemporary craft verbal and visual language to further inform professional practice in their discipline(s) and broaden critical and contextual awareness.

8.3. Key and Transferable Skills

On successful completion graduates will have developed the ability to:

- 8.3.1 Research a variety of sources and effectively manage, analyse and utilise key elements.
- 8.3.2 Select and employ a range of practical and digital media creative media.
- 8.3.3 Work confidently as an independent creative or within a group setting and take responsibility for own learning.

8.4. Employment Related Skills

On successful completion graduates will have developed:

- 8.4.1 Interpersonal, social and negotiation skills in relation to others.
- 8.4.2 Skills in the presentation of work within creative industry contexts, to include knowledge of specialist pathways, ability to promote effectively via the creation of printed and digital catalogues, online platforms and physical exhibition spaces.
- 8.4.3 Standard professional practice skills within creative freelance practice and entrepreneurship, portfolio development skills, interview technique, client management, professional/legal responsibilities' awareness; specifically copyright and royalty understanding, time keeping and deadline management, HMRC and self-employment concerns, understanding of Art and Contemporary Craft terminology underpinned via direct industry engagement.

8.5. Practical Skills

On successful completion graduates will have developed:

- 8.5.1 Knowledge of a range of creative practical application technique with a range of creative media and the ability to employ this knowledge within ethical working practices.
- 8.5.2 In-depth media, application, process and production knowledge within subject specific specialism.
- 8.5.3 Sound knowledge of digital technologies employed in creative industry to create professional contemporary solutions.

9. Admissions Criteria, including APCL, APEL and Disability Service arrangements

Petroc encourages applications on our FdA Art and Contemporary Craft programme from mature candidates who may not hold formal qualifications. These applications will be considered on an individual basis, applicants will be interviewed and may be asked to provide evidence of appropriateness to study such as a portfolio of work.

Entry Requirements for FdA Art and Contemporary Craft
GCSEs required at Grade C or above	Grade 'C' or above in Maths and English preferred, but not necessary in some instances: relevant level 2 key skills' qualifications or functional skills' qualifications would be acceptable.
A-level/AS-level	48 UCAS Points or equivalent.
BTEC National Diploma/QCF	Candidates are required to hold a Pass or equivalent in an Art and Design related subject.

Extended Diploma
Access to Higher Education at level 3 or Year 0 Provision	Candidates are required to hold a Pass or equivalent in an Art and Design related subject.
Other qualifications / non-standard awards or experiences	Appropriate subject areas will normally be in related disciplines, however qualifications in others subjects may be considered and discussed at interview.
Work Experience	In order to continue the ethos of widening participation that is established in our FdA programmes of study we feel that applicants with a proven record of experience in related subjects at the correct level and who can demonstrate relevant experience through portfolio plus an interview may be eligible to enter the award. All relevantly qualified applicants will be interviewed. Appropriate subject areas will normally be in related disciplines, however qualifications in others subjects may be considered and discussed at interview.
Interview / Portfolio requirements	All applicants will be asked to attend an interview with one member of the FdA team. These interviews are as much about you finding out about the course as they are for us finding out about the student. Students will be asked to bring a folder of work together with any relevant notebooks and sketchbooks. The interviews are very much diagnostic, designed to help place the student on the right programme. If through negotiation it is felt that a candidate is not yet ready to engage with the practical, academic and motivational skills required of the FdA, an appropriate lower level course will be offered. An appropriate check list of required attributes has been developed to support interviewers. At this interview students are asked to disclose any barriers to learning so that appropriate support can be put in place. They are also asked to reveal any criminal record.

Petroc encourages applications on our FdA Art and Contemporary Craft programme from mature candidates who may not hold formal qualifications. These applications will be considered on an individual basis, applicants will be interviewed and may be asked to provide evidence of appropriateness to study such as a portfolio of work.

9.1 Accreditation of Prior (Certificated) Learning

AP(C)L gives recognition to learning which has been formally assessed and for which a certificate has been awarded.

If students have achieved certificated learning with another higher education institution, they may be able to accredit this into one of the University of Plymouth degree courses. Students need to provide a copy of relevant certificate and/or transcript, and any information on the learning outcomes and/or assessment criteria.

Comparison will be made between what has already been learned with what would be studied on the course or programme for which the student is claiming credit. This will show whether the learning on each course or programme is identical or sufficiently similar to enable the student to claim that they have already achieved the learning outcomes. If it is, we will award the student the relevant modules and credits. If it is not identical or sufficiently similar, we will award the student general credits.

9.2. Accreditation of Prior and (Experiential) Learning

AP(E)L gives recognition for knowledge and skills that have been gained from experience – rather than from a certificated programme of study or training – and refers to prior learning which has not been assessed. Such learning may have been gained in a number of different ways:

- experiential learning acquired in paid work
- experiential learning acquired in unpaid or voluntary work
- experiential learning acquired from leisure activities
- un-certificated learning from self-directed study

10. Progression routes/criteria for progression to Final and Intermediate Awards

Upon successful completion of the FdA Art and Contemporary Craft programme, the automatic progression route available to programme learners will be BA (Hons) Creative Industries at Petroc (awarded by University of Plymouth).

Other non-automatic progression routes (through the standard application process) include BA (Hons) Fine Art at the University of Plymouth.

11. Non Standard Regulations

There are no non-standard regulations in this programme.

12. Transitional Arrangements for existing students looking to progress onto the programme

Students currently studying on the FdA Illustration would not be able to transition to this programme due to the significant difference in the programme intended learning outcomes. Applications from students that have achieved credits in other HEI's could be APL'd to this programme providing the learning outcomes satisfy the requirements of the FdA Art and Contemporary Craft.

Consolidation and identity enable students to competently evaluate the learning obtained at level 4 study. Learners will identify key areas for further development and modes of independent research practice to enable maximum theoretical and practical progression with a new personal body of work.

ELEMENTS OF ASSESSMENT [Use HESA KIS definitions] – see Definitions of Elements and Components of Assessment
E1 (Examination)		C1 (Coursework)	100%
E2 (Clinical Examination)		A1 (Generic assessment)
T1 (Test)		P1 (Practical)

SUBJECT ASSESSMENT PANEL to which module should be linked: Art and Media
Professional body minimum pass mark requirement: N/A

MODULE AIMS:

- To further develop self-evaluative practice in the consolidation of theoretical and practical concepts in Level 4.
- To expand critical thinking, theoretical skills and formal elements knowledge reflected in the design process.
- To further develop an experimental approach to media and application technique in specialist context.
- To further develop skills in the presentation of work using industry standard creative software.
- Build confidence with style, aesthetic, creative identity and branding.
- To create a body of work reflective of the learning experience.
- To make a conclusion of the most effective outcomes via final artwork for a specific genre and audience.

ASSESSED LEARNING OUTCOMES: At the end of the module the learner will be expected to be able to:

Assessed Module Learning Outcomes	Award/ Programme Learning Outcomes contributed to
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Produce professionally presented final artworks that reflects consolidation of theoretical and practical concepts in level 4 study. 2. Show a professional level of presentation which effectively communicates intention and concern to a thoroughly researched specialist audience via the application of industry standard creative software. 3. Produce a module learning journal which advances the documentation of independent specialist research including commercial investigation, design and production in context and evaluation of new experimental media and technical processes. 4. Evidence experimentation and critical thinking informed by lectures, workshops and independent research. 	8.2 Cognitive and intellectual skills ALO 3,4 - 8.2.2) Ability to competently research, analyse information and apply knowledge to effectively communicate and express information in a variety of forms to specialist and non-specialist audiences 8.3 Key and transferable skills ALO1,4 - 8.3.1) Research a variety of sources and effectively manage, analyse and utilise key elements. ALO1,2 - 8.3.2) Select and employ a range of practical and digital media creative media. 8.5 Practical skills ALO 1,2,3,4 - 8.5.1) Have knowledge of a range of creative practical application technique with a range of creative media and the ability to employ this knowledge within ethical working practices.

MODULE LEADER: AMY STANLEY	OTHER MODULE STAFF: SHIREE STAINER, JOHN COKER

Summary of Module Content

- Workshops, lectures and seminars will develop skills in the subjects of self-evaluation, creative identity in context and theoretical and practical consolidation.
- Students will be expected to produce a portfolio of evidence showing the learning made with the application of experimental processes aimed at an intended, researched audience presented professionally via digital creative software.
- Students will work in collaboration during the conclusion stages of the project resulting in final outcomes which explore the potential of cross pollination and the sharing of skill sets.
- Communication, problem solving, and time management will be explored through established techniques and theoretical models.
