Welcome and Introduction

Welcome to FdA Teaching and Learning delivered at North Devon (Brannams) by Petroc in partnership with the University of Plymouth.

The FdA Teaching and Learning will be the preferred choice for those who may see their professional progression in Primary or Early Years teaching, or who want to study a broad base of exciting, challenging and professionally relevant modules without being restricted to a definite career path within the Early Years sector. Students with a particular interest in the education of young children in a schools-based context will find contemporary, thought-provoking, and relevant modules and modes of assessment.

The majority of our students will progress to the full honour's degree via a number of progression pathways and remain in the local workforce: as teachers, teaching assistants and specialists, managers, and pedagogues. All of the modules refer to the practical application of theory in working with children. A number of modules offer the opportunity to plan and deliver activities in professional settings.

The development of graduate skills is a priority for all the teaching staff that many past students remark upon, noting the considerable personal development and growth that they gained through the teaching and learning they experience when studying for their Foundation Degrees. The transferable skills gained through the activities and study programme will enable students to apply for employment in a wide range of sectors; planning and managing projects, relating academic theory to their own practice, and working in teams are just some of these skills. All of the modules refer to the practical application of theory to work with children, with a number of modules offering the opportunity to plan and deliver professionally linked and relevant activities.

This programme has been designed to equip you with the skills and knowledge base required to work in your chosen specialism in the education of young children, or other graduate opportunities. It is also a platform from which you can undertake additional vocational and academic qualifications in order to excel in a wide range of professions.

The Foundation degree in Teaching and Learning offers a unique opportunity to study young children, with a comprehensive and in-depth insight into children's development, and the provision of innovative practice to support students' learning with the selected specialism of Teaching and Learning. Students have many opportunities to apply theory to practice and to develop their understanding of key concepts. There are no examinations, but essays, presentations, case studies and reports contribute to the module grades. The transferable skills gained through the activities and study programme will enable students to apply for employment in a wide range of sectors; planning and managing projects, relating academic theory to their own practice, and working in teams are just some of these skills. 2.2 Brief Description of the Programme

The Foundation degree in Teaching and Learning offers a unique opportunity to study young children, with a comprehensive and in-depth insight into children's development, and the provision of innovative practice to support students' learning with the selected specialism of Teaching and Learning. Students have many opportunities to apply theory to practice and to develop their understanding of key concepts. There are no examinations, but essays, presentations, case studies and reports contribute to the module grades. The transferable skills gained through the activities and study programme will enable students to apply for employment in a wide range of sectors; planning and managing projects, relating academic theory to their own practice, and working in teams are just some of these skills. All of the modules refer to the practical application of theory to work with children, with a number of modules offering the opportunity to participate in activities that have professional relevance.

The development of graduate skills is a priority for all the teaching staff and a minimum of 50 hours of engagement in the workplace assists students to make links between theory and practice. Past students remark on the considerable personal development and growth that they gained through the teaching and learning they experience on the programme. By working closely with the staff on the progressing programmes, a smooth progression to the final year is ensured. This programme has been designed to equip you with the skills and knowledge base required to work in your chosen specialism or other graduate opportunities. It is also a platform from which you can undertake additional vocational and academic qualifications in order to excel in a wide range of professions.

2.3 Programme Aims

The programme will deliver:

- A:1 opportunities to acquire a variety of skills, concepts and learning experiences to enhance their employment potential in fields relating to the education and support of young children, and opportunities for further study and professional development. Students will be able to demonstrate skills and knowledge acquired in practical or professional experience in a number of modules, and are given the opportunity to apply theory to real-life educational settings

- A: 2. the opportunity for learners to develop an ability to reflect upon a range of historical, philosophical, psychological, sociological, cultural and other perspectives, and consider how these influence understandings of children and childhood nationally and globally, with a specific focus on Early Years Education.
- A:3 the promotion and support of a reflective approach to practice and professional development, with students supported to identify areas of their own practice that could be developed and improved, and to critically reflect upon their own work and that of others.
- A:4 the development of students' knowledge of the interrelated factors that affect children's development and learning in a variety of contexts, with a specific focus on Early Years Education. By also studying social policy, Early Years practice, and provision, students are prepared to work with, support, and celebrate the diversity of families and children. Graduates will be reflective learners able to connect theory to practical experiences and situations.
- A:5 preparation for graduates to be advocates of children's rights and needs, and creatively and confidently implement policies set for Education in light of that knowledge.
- A:6 A solid grounding for those students who wish to take advantage of progressing to an honour's degree programme, widening participation in Higher Education and supporting academic and professional skills.

2.4 Programme Intended Learning Outcomes (ILO)

By the end of this programme the student will be able to:

- LO1: Analyse, critically evaluate, and demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the ecology of early childhood, and children in ecological contexts.
- LO2: Observe, record, interpret, and intelligently apply appropriate theoretical principles in research and professional situations in the education and care of young children.
- LO3: Reflect upon, and develop, their own practice in the light of theoretical knowledge, including the acquisition and development of key graduate or employability skills, evidencing awareness of the underlying values and principles relevant to education studies and a developing personal stance which draws on their knowledge and understanding
- LO4: Evidence knowledge and understanding of children's rights, anti-discriminatory practice, and how to protect and promote those rights as a practitioner and pedagogue.
- LO5: Demonstrate key academic skills in order to confidently progress to further professional or academic achievement.
- LO6: Demonstrate a broad understanding of current UK Primary and Early Years Educational Provision, specifically the societal and organisational structures and purposes of educational systems, and the possible implications for learners and the learning process.

- LO7: Evidence a critical understanding of the challenges and intricacies within multi-professional practices, evidencing and reflecting upon the ability and key skills necessary to work in teams.

2.5 Distinctive Features

The FdA Teaching and Learning will be the preferred choice for those who may see their professional progression in Primary or Early Years teaching, or who want to study a broad base of exciting, challenging and professionally relevant modules without being restricted to a definite career path within the Early Years sector. Students with a particular interest in the education of young children in a schools-based context will find contemporary, thought-provoking, and relevant modules and modes of assessment.

The majority of our students will progress to the full honour's degree via a number of progression pathways and remain in the local workforce: as teachers, teaching assistants and specialists, managers, and pedagogues. All of the modules refer to the practical application of theory in working with children. A number of modules offer the opportunity to plan and deliver activities in professional settings.

The development of graduate skills is a priority for all the teaching staff that many past students remark upon, noting the considerable personal development and growth that they gained through the teaching and learning they experience when studying for their Foundation Degrees. The transferable skills gained through the activities and study programme will enable students to apply for employment in a wide range of sectors; planning and managing projects, relating academic theory to their own practice, and working in teams are just some of these skills. All of the modules refer to the practical application of theory to work with children, with a number of modules offering the opportunity to plan and deliver professionally linked and relevant activities.

This programme has been designed to equip you with the skills and knowledge base required to work in your chosen specialism in the education of young children, or other graduate opportunities. It is also a platform from which you can undertake additional vocational and academic qualifications in order to excel in a wide range of professions.

2.6 Student Numbers

The following provides information that should be considered nominal, and therefore not absolutely rigid, but is of value to guide assurance of the quality of the student experience, functional issues around enabling progression opportunities to occur and staffing and resource planning:

Minimum student numbers per stage = 5

Target student numbers per stage = 15

Maximum student numbers per stage = 25 (groups may be larger for core key module lectures)

2.7 Progression Route(s)

On completion of the FdA Teaching and Learning, students will have several progression opportunities including completing their Honours degree with Plymouth University, post-graduate study within Plymouth University and employment in the Early Years sector.

University of Plymouth Academic Partnerships Programme Quality Handbook UK 21/22

Students who successfully complete the FdA Teaching and Learning may progress to;

BA (Hons) Early Childhood Studies (Stage 3 (Plymouth University)

BA (Hons) Professional Development (Childhood Studies) – Petroc (entry at Level 6)

BA (Hons) Education Stage 3 (Plymouth University)

The contribution of marks from prior levels of study to the progression award is governed by University regulations.

3 Admissions Criteria

Qualification(s) Required for Entry to this Programme:	Details:
Level 2: Key Skills requirement / Higher Level Diploma: and/or GCSEs required at Grade C or above:	Grade 'C' or above in Maths and English preferred, but not necessary in some instances: relevant key skills qualifications or functional skills qualifications would be acceptable.
Level 3: at least one of the following: AS/A Levels Advanced Level Diploma: BTEC National Certificate/Diploma: VDA: AGNVQ, AVCE, AVS: Access to HE or Year 0 provision: International Baccalaureate: Irish / Scottish Highers / Advanced Highers:	A-levels OR vocational qualification (160 UCAS tariff points) or substantial and relevant work experience in an appropriate sector. Entry is welcome from mature students with relevant experience in place of these qualifications Appropriate subject areas will normally be in the discipline of Children's care and development, Education, Psychology, Sociology, Health and Social care, and related subjects however qualifications in others subjects may be considered and discussed at interview.
Work Experience:	Considered on individual merit
Other HE qualifications / non-standard awards or experiences:	Appropriate subject areas will normally be in related disciplines, however qualifications in others subjects may be considered and discussed at interview.
APEL / APCL ⁴ possibilities:	Applicants for APEL/APCL will be dealt with on an individual basis. Students must apply for this through the Higher Education Office providing full details of the qualifications/experience they wish to be considered. Plymouth University regulations will apply to all applications.
Interview / Portfolio requirements:	In order to continue the ethos of widening participation that is established in our FdA and FdSc programmes of study we feel that applicants with a proven record of experience in related subjects at the correct level and who can demonstrate relevant experience through portfolio plus an interview may be eligible to enter the award. All relevantly qualified applicants will be interviewed. All students will be expected to complete 50 hours of work-based study as a minimum requirement, and we suggest that this represent around one day in an appropriate setting in term time in your first years of study. Students should come to interview with some initial plans of how they intend to undertake this work-based learning, though the programme can offer some support in gaining placements if the applicant does not have an existing professional role in the Early Years.
Independent Safeguarding Agency (ISA) / Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) clearance required:	Students will be asked to provide evidence of DBS clearance already held. This can be also processed through Petroc if students do not hold the relevant certification, providing students are eligible to work with children and vulnerable people.

4 Academic Standards and Quality Enhancement

The Programme Leader/Manager (or other descriptor) leads the Programme Committee in the following of Plymouth University's annual programme monitoring process (APM), as titled at the time of approval. APM culminates in the production, maintenance and employment of a programme level Action Plan, which evidences appropriate management of the programme in terms of quality and standards. Any formally agreed change to this process will continue to be followed by the Programme Leader/Manager (or other descriptor) and their Programme Committee.

Elements of this process include engaging with stakeholders. For this definitive document it is important to define:

Subject External Examiner(s): The FdA Teaching and Learning has one main External Examiner responsible for all separate modules contained within the programme, however that Examiner may review modules that are core to other programmes, such as the FdA Early Childhood Studies and FdA Early Years Practice, and vice versa.

Additional stakeholders specific to this programme: Student representation via an elected student representative will be a core method of obtaining objective feedback and constructive input on all elements of the student cohort experience whilst on the programme.

The student representative (s) will be involved in both the Autumn and Spring programme committee meetings, where they will have an opportunity to meet with both the programmes External Examiner and the Academic Liaison Person. The input of the student representative will be an integral part of the quality assurance process for this programme of study. In addition to the course student representative, Petroc has a lead student representative who arranges regular student representative meetings where information from both the Petroc HE Coordinator and the student representatives is disseminated in a meaningful and productive manner in order to improve the whole Higher Education experience for students at Petroc.

5. Explanation and Mapping of Learning Outcomes, Teaching & Learning and Assessment⁵

Developing graduate attributes and skills, at any level of HE, is dependent on the clarity of strategies and methods for identifying the attributes and skills relevant to the programme and where and how these are operationalized. The interrelated factors of Teaching, Learning and Assessment and how these are inclusive in nature, are fundamentally significant to these strategies and methods, as are where and how these are specifically distributed within the programme.

Ordered by graduate attributes and skills, the following table provides a map of the above, plus an exposition to describe and explain the ideas and strategy of each. Therefore, subsequent to the initial completion for approval, maintenance of this table as and when programme structure changes occur is also important:

Assessment is carried out through a variety of methods such as, case studies, coursework, essays, presentations, academic posters, reflective logs, workplace engagement, literature reviews etc. Formative work in each module will also be undertaken to ensure that students are fully prepared for the summative assessments. All lecturers will ensure that students have the opportunity to practice on more than one occasion the type of assessment required in each module.

An explanation for embedding Cognitive and Intellectual Skills through Teaching & Learning and Assessment at this level of the programme: These skills are of vital importance to students in developing lifelong skills transferable to any situation. In keeping with their importance, emphasis will be placed on them from the commencement of the course. It is important that students recognise the various components, such as description, analysis, critical evaluation and synthesis and undertake focussed activities to ensure their understanding and ability to translate theory into practice. Core intellectual competencies will be developed by critically analysing concepts learnt in more traditional settings such as classrooms, and applying these to the workplace. Assessment is carried out in a variety of ways to prevent over emphasis on one or two particular skills and to accommodate a range of skills and learning styles. Problem questions, evaluation and critical evaluation, using the skills in oral applications and through coursework will judge the students developing skills and also allow the students to be assessed in a balanced way, allowing students the opportunity to be assessed in ways which may play to their strengths.

An explanation for embedding Knowledge and Understanding through Teaching & Learning and Assessment at this level of the programme:
Students will develop on their work during the first year, with a focus on developing knowledge & understanding of core concepts. This will be facilitated by workshops enabling students to research effectively, the lectures and seminars, and the developing ability for students to direct their own study. There will be further reliance upon the use of primary sources, particularly peer-reviewed journals, to form core parts of their assessments and materials used in class. Students will engage with a range of different teaching methods, such as lectures and seminars to introduce topics, with group work and formative assessment and feedback enabling constructive developmental feedback.

Assessment is carried out through a variety of methods such as: case studies, coursework, essays, presentations, reflective logs, workplace engagement, literature reviews etc. Formative work in each module will also be undertaken to ensure that students are fully prepared for the summative assessments. All lecturers will ensure that students have the opportunity to practice on more than one occasion the type of assessment required in each module.

Cognitive and Intellectual Skills: SEEC Level Five descriptors and QAA Subject Specific Benchmark for Early Childhood Studies Education Studies By the end of this level of this programme the students will be able to demonstrate for a threshold pass: Students will be able to demonstrate an ability to apply underlying concepts and principles outside the context in which they were first studied. In particular: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Apply knowledge of theory when interpreting experiences. Use experiences to understand theory and reflect on practice. • Analyse and interpret observations and assessment in the light of theory. • Problem solving and research skills. • An ability to identify, recognise and apply key theories, paradigms, concepts and principles. • Demonstrate a critical understanding of the links between key themes: ethics, politics, culture and ideology. 	Primary: Lectures will act as introductions to learning outcomes, to establish a firm knowledge base. This will be further developed by the use of seminars to embed and develop the analysis and critical viewpoints and awareness. The use of journals will also enable students to synthesis and establish a core competency of understanding. Tutorial support will be delivered, with a focus on pastoral and study support. Further opportunities for work-based learning will enable students to develop	A1 A2 A4 A6	LO1 LO2 LO4 Lo6	Planned activities and sessions, reflection Research proposals and literature reviews	NORD2129 NORD2123 NORD2124

	their critical thinking and critical skills Secondary/Supplementary: Further opportunities for practical activities, work based learning and trips and events
An explanation for embedding Cognitive and Intellectual Skills through Teaching & Learning and Assessment at this level of the programme: The key components of description, analysis, critical evaluation and synthesis will be further developed by a range of critical seminars, guest speakers, and relation to real-world scenarios to establish the theory within the range of professional settings applicable. Assessment is carried out in a variety of ways to prevent over emphasis on one or two particular skills and to accommodate a range of skills and learning styles. Problem solving, planning, evaluation and critical evaluation, using the skills in oral applications and through coursework will judge and support the students' developing skills and also allow the students to be assessed in a balanced way. Students are supported and encouraged to develop their own lines of enquiry and thinking, in pursuing areas of particular interest, selecting their own choice of literature for assignments such as NORD2123, NORD2124 and identifying areas relevant to their own practice in NORD2125 and NORD2129.
Key Transferable Skills: SEEC Level Five descriptors and QAA Subject Specific Benchmark for Early Childhood Studies Education Studies By the end of this level of this programme the students will be able to demonstrate for a threshold pass: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> An ability to communicate well, adapting interpersonal and communication skills to a range of situations, audiences and degrees of complexity. 	Primary: Work based learning will enable students to convert the theoretical and practical skills gained, and establish them within the context of the workplace.	A1, A2	LO2 LO5 LO3 LO7	Presentations Seminar and debate	NORD2129 NORD2124

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Demonstration of competency in working alone and as a team, listening carefully to others and reflecting critically on skills and views of oneself and others. • An ability to act with limited supervision and direction, within defined guidelines, accepting responsibility for achieving personal and/or group outcomes and/or outputs. • Competency in presenting information in a range of media and methods • Evidence a reflective and proactive approach to their own learning and progression 	Experiential and practical learning opportunities will further enhance learning and enable students to prepare for work placements, where appropriate. Tutorial support will be delivered, with a focus on pastoral and study support. Secondary/Supplementary: Further opportunities for field and practical work, work based learning and trips and events.	A4 A5 A7		Reflection and evaluation of professional skills Reflection and evaluation of professional skills	NORD2125 NORD2125 NORD2129
An explanation for embedding Key Transferable Skills through Teaching & Learning and Assessment at this level of the programme: Clear and effective written and verbal communication skills are developed throughout the two years through the formative assessment of written and oral work. This work may take a variety of forms: essays, debates, presentations, reflective logs, presentation of reports, responses to articles or case studies and in more innovative methods of assessment, such as the response to professional standards and specifications, designing of provision and practice or presenting an artefact, and research proposals. At the commencement of the course, the attention of students will be drawn to the need for effective written and verbal communication in induction and this will be further developed through seminars and students own independent study, supported through comprehensive workshops and lecture sessions. Information Technology will be enabled via the VLE, use of appropriate software. Formative assessment will take place in all modules to ensure students understand what is required of them and also, peer and self-assessment will play a considerable role.
Employment Related Skills:

SEEC Level Five descriptors and QAA Subject Specific Benchmark for Early Childhood Studies Education Studies By the end of this level of this programme the students will be able to demonstrate for a threshold pass: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Evidence of having undertaken Work Based Learning, and had meaningful contact with outside agencies, providers and/or employers, specifically to have related theory to their own skills or practice, and developed according to conclusions drawn from these reflections. An explanation for embedding Employment Related Skills through Teaching & Learning and Assessment at this level of the programme:

The embedding of WBL and drawing on of professional practice is embedded at the heart of the programme. In addition, the options to specialise in study by selecting the FdA T&L or FdA ECS offers both specialist focus and an early reflection on practice and career development.

Practical Skills: SEEC Level Five descriptors and QAA Subject Specific Benchmark for Early Childhood Studies Education Studies By the end of this level of this programme the students will be able to demonstrate for a threshold pass: Students will be able to demonstrate an ability to apply subject principles in an employment context possibly different from that in which they were first studied; undertake further training, develop existing skills and acquire new competencies that will enable them to assume significant responsibilities within organisations and demonstrate the qualities and transferable skills necessary for employment requiring the exercise of personal responsibility and decision making. In particular: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Interactive & group skills • Computer & information technology skills • Presentation & oral communication skills • Written communication 	Primary: Tutorial support will be delivered, with a focus on pastoral and study support. Opportunities for practical work and engagement with outside agencies Secondary/Supplementary: Further opportunities for field and practical work, work based learning and trips and events appropriate to employment related skills.	A1 A3	LO3 LO5 LO7	Supported further work based learning	NORD2125 NORD2126 NORD2129 NORD2130

An explanation for embedding Practical Skills through Teaching & Learning and Assessment at this level of the programme:

The embedding of WBL and drawing on of professional practice is embedded at the heart of the programme. In addition, the options to specialise in study by selecting the FdA T&L or FdA ECS offers both specialist focus and an early reflection on practice and career development. The practical nature of many careers in Education and Early Years mean there is an overlap here with Employability and other skills, and this provides an underpinning rationale and framework to the FdA.

6. Based/Related Learning⁶

WBL is an essential element of Foundation Degrees and therefore needs to be detailed here. However, for all types of HE programmes there should be an element of employability focus through, at least, Work Related Learning, and therefore the following is applicable for all:

FHEQ level: 4
WBL/WRL Activity:	Logistics	Prog Aim	Prog Intended LO	Range of Assessments	Related Core Module(s)
Work based learning: 50 hours in practice as a minimum: students will be advised at interview that they should expect to undertake the equivalent of one full working day a week in practice: paid or voluntary. Guest Speakers	Work experience will be embedded in NORD1112, where students will be encouraged and supported to undertake meaningful CPD in their own practice and/or engage with new roles. Guest speakers will be arranged to time with appropriate content within modules, potentially combining with other FdA guest speakers Typically, students are offered training	A2 A4 A5	LO3 LO4 LO7	Reflection PDP files Activities and tests	NORD1112 All modules will potentially have speakers, trips and /or other activities involving external stakeholders.

An explanation of this map:

Work-based learning is embedded within the core modules. Specific work placement experience may be gained through our partnerships with organisations, or by supporting students to identify areas for development within their existing organisation or source an opportunity for themselves. Students will reflect regarding their skills and skills gaps, which will inform their placement choices and applications.

An explanation of this map: Guest speakers and their knowledge will also be drawn upon to further develop students' critical thinking and analytical abilities. The HE Employability Conference at Petroc, and access to key events at Plymouth University, encompasses a broad range of guest speakers, valuable workshops and opportunities to reflect on practice providing students with an opportunity to improve their employment potential.

SUMMARY of MODULE CONTENT

Through a series of tutorials, and specialist referral as necessary, students will be introduced to:

- Academic literacy and research conventions in their chosen field;
- The requirements of professional practice
- Informed reflection, self-evaluation and personal action planning;
- Relevant ICT competences to support academic and professional practice;

Information Literacy, including search strategies, identification and critical selection of quality scholarly information.
